The oldest known sundial is from Egypt; it dates back to around 1500 BC (19th Dynasty), and was discovered in the Valley of the Kings in 2013. Sundials have their origin in shadow clocks, which were the first devices used for measuring the parts of a day. Ancient Egyptian obelisks, constructed about 3500 BC, are also among the earliest shadow clocks.

A comparative study conducted by Logan et al. (2012) indicated that both entertainment and informativeness have a significant impact on the value of social media ads and TV ads. Another significant relationship was also noticed by Logan et al. (2012) between advertising value and customers’ attitudes. However, Logan et al. (2012) disproved the impact of irritation on the advertising value.
